

OE Medical Society Black Tie Dinner
Royal College of Surgeons
Friday 6th March 2015
7.00pm

Richard Pusey and 'The Irish Giant' in the Hunterian Museum

OE Medical Society President, James Powles (Fa 1983-88), looks forward to welcoming OEs, parents and guests in the medical and dental professions to the Society's annual dinner at the Royal College of Surgeons on 6th March. Sixth form pupils considering a medical or dental career are also warmly encouraged to attend.

The drinks reception will be held in the Hunterian Museum and Richard Pusey (Forest 1960-65), a volunteer guide, has once again offered to give a private tour at 6.15pm. Richard, a retired Consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon and past President of the History of Medicine Section at the RSM, gives regular talks at the museum with titles such as Anatomy of a hanging and The Crimean War.

The annual dinner is a great opportunity both to catch up with friends and to meet OEs from a full range of medical careers spanning all generations. The Society is very keen to support the younger members and so established members are encouraged to consider subsidising a place at the dinner for those in full-time education, as well as OEs who have recently qualified.
